

2017 McAuley Oration

The Centre for International Health warmly invites you to this free public lecture:

Converting economic growth into better health: which developing countries are better and why?

Professor Mark McGillivray

Global expert on the causes of inequalities of health outcomes among developing countries. 2017 William Evans Visiting Fellow; Research Professor in International Development, Alfred Deakin Research Institute of Deakin University; former Chief Economist of the Australian Agency for International Development.

Thursday 16 November 2017 | 7:00pm – 8:00pm
Dunedin Public Art Gallery | All Welcome

The McAuley Oration is sponsored by the Centre for International Health and is part of the Otago Global Health Institute (OGHI) 10th Annual Conference and the Australasian Society for Infectious Diseases (ASID) NZ Annual Meeting otago.ac.nz/oghiconference asid.net.au/groups/nz-annual-meeting

Photo credit: P Hill